One of Bucks County's Most Prestigious and Largest Law Firms Opens Office in New Hope

LANGHORNE and NEW HOPE, PA. August 3, 2015: Begley, Carlin & Mandio, LLP, one of Bucks County's largest law firms, is pleased to announce the opening of its New Hope office. The office is located at 123 W. Bridge Street and its phone number is 215-862-0701. Colin M. Jenei, Esq., one of Bucks County's top litigation lawyers, both civil and criminal, will be Of Counsel to the firm and Begley lawyers from the Langhorne office will regularly meet with clients in New Hope to provide them with a wide range of legal services including commercial litigation, business law, real estate, zoning and land development, family law, criminal law and personal injury.

According to firm senior partner Thomas Hecker, "We are delighted to expand our services to businesses and individuals in Northern and Central Bucks County. We heeded the request of clients that we open a full-service, convenient office in New Hope. We look forward to serving the community and being a great contributor to the vibrancy of the area."

With nineteen attorneys, the firm is one of the largest full-service law firms in Bucks County. From its offices in Langhorne and New Hope, Pennsylvania, the firm represents individuals, businesses, banks, municipalities, educational institutions, and school districts in a variety of practice areas including business law, litigation, trusts and estates, family law, real estate, personal injury, elder and criminal law matters. A presence in Bucks County, Pennsylvania, since 1933, Begley, Carlin & Mandio, LLP is known as a firm with the reputation and community relations it takes to get things done.
